About Us

At Origo our mission is to be the fintech supplier of choice to connect the financial services marketplace for the benefit of everyone.

We have been creating solutions to industry problems for over 30 years, digitising common business processes, and reducing time and costs for all involved.

In 2002 we launched the Unipass brand which is now trusted by over 40,000 UK financial advisers as well as product providers, platforms and software suppliers every day, to help them securely conduct business easily and efficiently. We now boast 4 successful Unipass services, all designed to streamline processes, reduce costs and increase security.

Unipass Mailock was created specifically for the Financial Services industry by combining two industry-leading services:

Unipass Identity – the industry standard secure online identity service, and Mailock – a military grade email encryption service created by Beyond Encryption.

The service enables users to create, send and receive secure emails, using their existing email systems, email addresses, and branding, safe in the knowledge that only their intended recipient can open the email.

Unipass Mailock gives Financial Services organisations the power of simple, secure communication and a host of wider operational, financial and environmental benefits.

Unipass Agency Management is designed to help users manage their agencies more efficiently, using a secure online portal.

The service provides a single digital registration application form to set up a trading relationship with participating product providers.

In addition, the service also enables users to submit changes for their existing agencies to multiple providers. Agency Services reduces the time it takes to apply for Terms of Business and to update essential details including; requesting additional agencies, agency closures, address changes and making panel/service provider membership changes. The Agency Registration service alone handles around 12,000 applications every year, helping to reduce delays.
