

Unipass Mailock, the right addition to your approved list

The first step in joining a significant and growing secure community

The safe combination

The safe combination

Unipass Maillock provides a comprehensive and effective email security solution for the entire UK Financial Services community, while providing enhanced operational efficiency and brand engagement.

Currently the industry uses multiple portal systems to send and receive emails, which increases the risk of secure, confidential information being accessed by incorrect recipients.

Industry-wide adoption of Unipass Maillock will provide a consistent approach and best practice solution for maintaining the security of customer data in email correspondence.

Safety in numbers – Why the time to add it to your approved list is now

Unipass Maillock has Unipass, the established identity authentication standard for the industry, at the centre of its functionality. By joining the Unipass Maillock secure community you will become a part of a growing, best practice cyber-security movement.

- It affords its users a single, simple ID verification capability.
- Unipass is actively used by over 45,000 financial services professionals and by more than 8,000 companies including platform and product providers.
- Currently 8 out of 10 financial advisers hold and use a Unipass Identity.
- Adding the service to your approved list will underline your commitment to supporting the activities of the adviser marketplace.

Major providers and key distribution firms are currently implementing Unipass Maillock as their strategic solution. This means that shortly tens of thousands of secure emails will be in circulation.

This current scale of adoption makes this the perfect time to add Unipass Maillock to your approved list.

Clearly there is a vast array of different email encryption systems that could be used, but only one in our industry where 38,000 advisers and their support colleagues already have an account with them.

I refer, of course, to Unipass Maillock.

A suitable industry system that will deliver real benefits to advisers and clients is ready and waiting...

How to add the service to your approved list

Depending upon the configuration of your environments, you may need to make the following changes to your approved list for successful use of the product:

Email filtering

Secure emails that are composed and sent by users signing in to the www.besecuremail.com website will come from securesend@beyondencryption.com

Unipass Maillock also uses verification emails during the user registration to prove that the registrant has access to the email address being registered and notification emails to provide an audit trail to the sender of when messages are opened by the target recipient. These emails will be sent from notifications@beyondencryption.com

To aid the successful delivery of Unipass Maillock messages, please ensure that any email filtering applied allows emails from both of these addresses.

Web filtering

Please ensure that any web filtering allows access to the following URLs, which are required for normal operation of the Unipass Maillock system.

- www.unipassmailock.com
Our enterprise website where all details about the system can be found.
- www.besecuremail.com
Our main web portal where users may register, read and compose secure emails directly from within a browser.
- api.besecuremail.com
Our core API used by the Outlook Add-In and web portal.
- admin.beyondencryption.com
Our Company Administration portal used by administrators to invite users and configure the Unipass Maillock system.
- identity.beyondencryption.com
Our authentication website.

Adding Unipass Maillock to your approved list is a sensible and timely first step towards joining a growing, secure community. However we would urge you to consider the next step of full system adoption to unlock its full potential.

Beyond Your Approved List – Realising the full potential of Unipass Maillock

While adding the product to your approved list as soon as possible is clearly a logical choice given the growth in its adoption in the wider marketplace, full, strategic adoption of Unipass Maillock as the organisation-wide secure email solution for your business would unlock a host of wider benefits for your internal stakeholders, clients and partners alike.

For this reason, Origo would welcome the opportunity to assist you in a comprehensive review of Unipass Maillock and to work with your various key stakeholders to demonstrate the many benefits that Unipass Maillock will bring to your business.
